

stoba is an innovative developer of high-precision technology applications, a technology partner for the industrialization of hybrid applications and special high-end solutions in mechanical engineering. The group of companies consists of stoba Customized Machinery, stoba e-Systems and stoba Precision Technology and has subsidiaries in Germany, the UK, China, the USA and the Czech Republic. From consulting, planning and project planning, through development and design, to assembly and commissioning with service and maintenance facilities, stoba offers quality, innovation and customer proximity. With this extraordinary diversity of our competencies, we stand for collegial, sustainable and development-open workplaces with a global perspective and a corporate culture that is characterized by values such as commitment, trust and a constant willingness to change. The professional and forward-looking training of young colleagues is very important to us.

Job description

Electronics technician for automation technology (m/f/d)

3^{1/2} years

Vocational training must cover at least the following qualifications:

1. Vocational training, labor and collective bargaining law
2. Structure and organization of the training company
3. Health and safety at work
4. Environmental protection
5. Operational and technical communication
6. Planning and organizing work, evaluating work results
7. Installing and connecting electrical equipment
8. Measuring and analyzing electrical functions and systems
9. Assessing the safety of electrical systems and equipment
10. Installing and configuring IT systems
11. Advising and supporting customers, providing services
12. Technical order analysis, solution development
13. Installation of automation technology equipment
14. Configuring and programming automation systems
15. Testing and commissioning automation systems
16. Maintenance and optimization of automation systems
17. Business processes and quality management in the field of application

The qualifications are to be applied and deepened in at least one of the following areas of application:

1. Production and manufacturing automation
2. Process and process automation